BRAND INTRODUCTION

AC Stone Group is built on a foundation of craftsmanship, experience, knowledge and a long standing commitment to quality.

AC Stone Group is rooted in more than three decades of manufacturing heritage. What began as a family-operated producer of reconstituted stone has evolved into ArtsCut – a global manufacturing brand dedicated to the creation of advanced surface materials.

AC draws its identity from ArtsCut, reflecting a philosophy where technology, material expertise, and design come together to shape surfaces for modern spaces.

In 2016, AC Stone Group was established in New South Wales, bringing ArtsCut's manufacturing strength to the Australian market. Since then, our presence has grown across New South Wales, Victoria, Queensland, and Tasmania, forming a national network supporting stonemasons, builders, architects, designers, and homeowners.

As architecture evolves, so do the materials that define it. From traditional engineered stone to crystalline silica-free mineral surfaces, nano ink-printed designs, and premium porcelain slabs, AC Stone Group continues to explore new possibilities for contemporary surfaces.

Today, AC Stone Group supplies modern surface materials across Australia, supported by ArtsCut's global manufacturing expertise and more than three decades of industry experience.

AC Stone Group – where material craftsmanship meets modern design.

N+ TECHNOLOGY

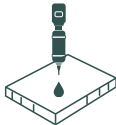

N+ Technology (N+ Tech) is AC Stone's breakthrough surface innovation, designed to take our ArtsCutZERO silica-free stone into a new era of design and performance. Using advanced high-definition inkjet print technology, N+ Tech delivers an unprecedented level of detail, depth, and realism while maintaining the strength, practicality of modern silica-free stone surfaces. From subtle veining to intricate textures and bold natural patterns, N+ Tech makes it possible to achieve what was once unimaginable in silica-free stone surfaces.

This innovation allows AC Stone to offer a surface that is not only safer but also more versatile, providing relevant parties with endless design freedom while maintaining the proven durability and low maintenance of our silica-free surfaces.

HIGH DEFINITION PRINT

Unrivalled definition with ultra-fine detail, where everyline is clean, precise, and seamlessly refined. Nano print technology delivers extraordinary depth and striking visual impact in every stone surface.

DEEPER INK INFUSION

AC Stone's N+ Technology uses Nano Ink to penetrate colour deep within the surface, producing richer, more vibrant designs, far beyond standard printed or traditional reconstituted stone.

STRENGTH & DURABILITY

The nanoparticles embedded in the N+ technology surfaces deliver superior resistance to scratches, stains and microbes while enhancing optical brilliance. A nextgeneration material designed for lasting beauty and effortless maintenance.

DEPTH AND TRANSLUCENCY

AC Stone's N+ Technology creates a three-dimensional appearance, mimicking the depth, translucency and veining of natural stone. A true-to-nature appearance with uncompromising quality, showcasing deep patterns and marble-like translucency.

FULL BODY DESIGN

With full-body performance, N+ technology combines traditional slab fabrication methods for the base material with advanced nano-ink print technology to create the surface pattern. This approach ensures that colour and texture are consistently integrated throughout the slab while achieving the authentic 3D character of natural stone.

INTERNAL COLOUR

Consistent colour tones are maintained throughout the slab, delivering exceptional light reflection, brightness and contrasting appearance.
